

Our range of cornices are hand crafted from the finest fibrous plaster. They have been developed over many years of work on prestigious projects, from Victorian restorations to modern offices and shopping centres.

Whilst Modillion boasts a wide range in their collection, we are able to tailor design and manufacture any cornice to suit your specifications.

Modillion Dado Rails have been widely used on Victorian, Edwardian and modern twentieth century interiors. They have been excepted as a standard feature of any room, particularly when a high ceiling is present.

Modillion can also create any design which you may have in mind or alternatively match an existing style that already exists.

Panels Mouldings are a specialist extra to an interior, commonly used in the decoration of museums, art galleries and stately homes.

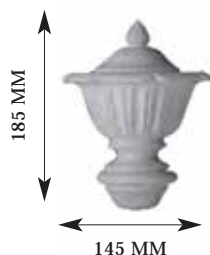

Modillion Panel Mouldings are perfect for this requirement, giving the area a central point of focus.

Panel Mouldings can also be matched to an existing design, as can the entire Modillion Collection.

Our range of brackets and corbels can often be seen in hallways and stair wells of Edwardian and Victorian period mansions and houses. The use of a bracket for example not only gives the designed structure an added sense of strength but will also compliment other existing platerwork.

Some of the Modillion range of brackets and corbels can also be manufactured in sand and cement for exterior use.
